

THE

NEW

Jan played a significant role in the development of graphic design in the 20th century. By developing modernistic typographic principles, Jan was a representer of "The New Typography" style.

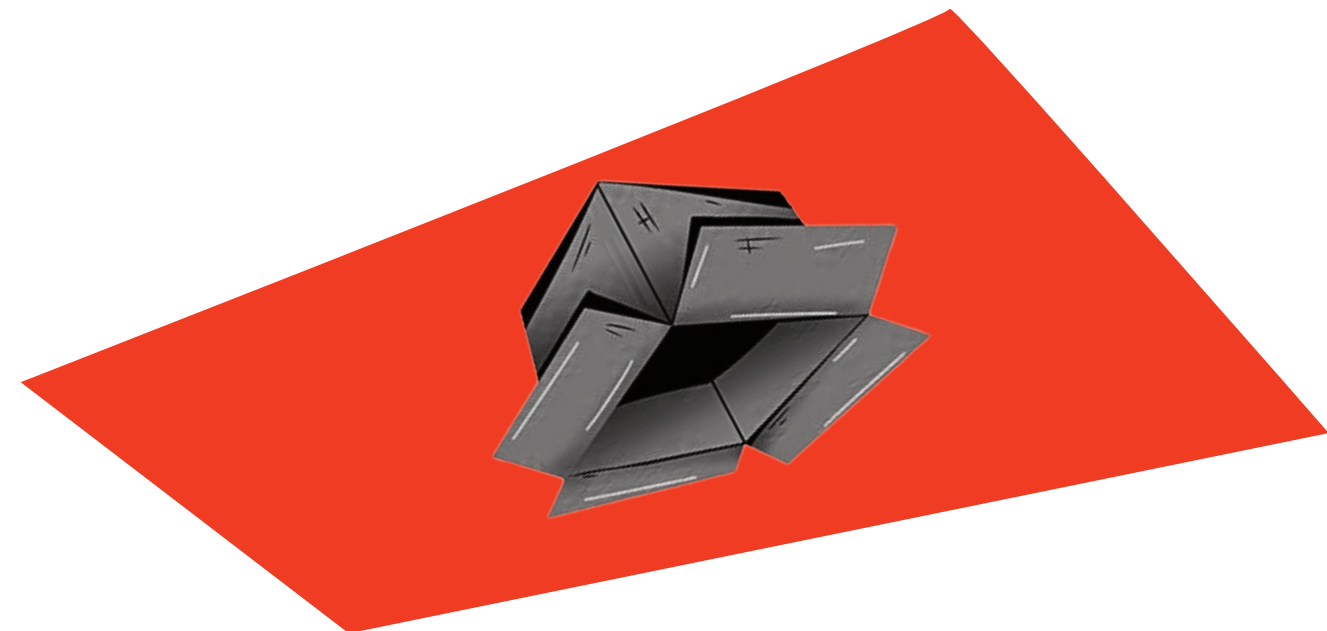

TYPOGRAPHY

JAN TSCHICHOLD

German typographer, Jan Tschichold believed in taking A-symmetry to the extreme, leading to the creation of his “modern principles” of Minimalism, Bold text, and Negative Space that became a leading force, inspiring some of today's designers.

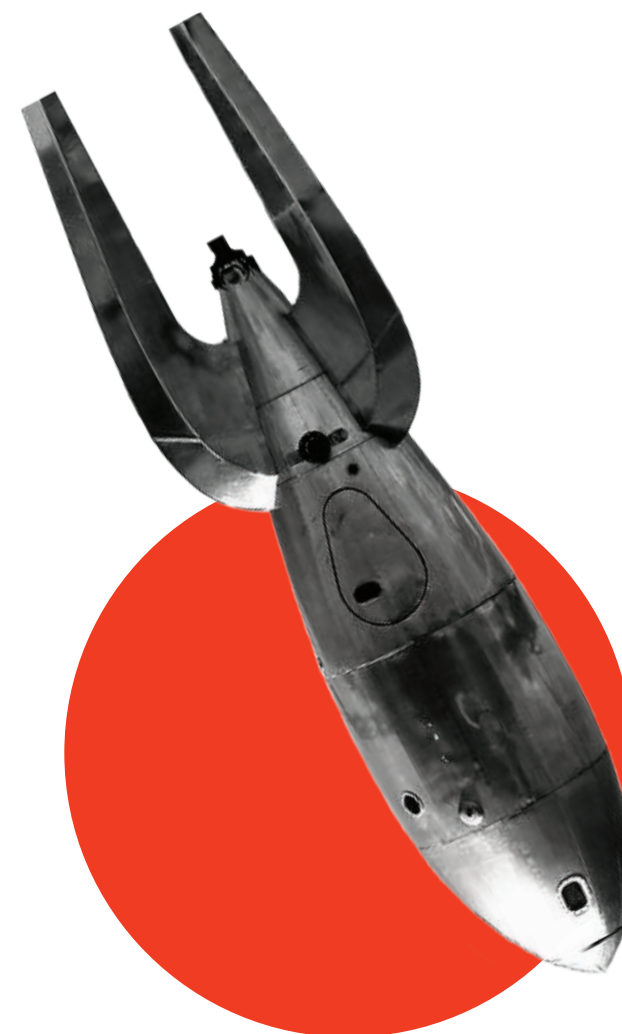

Empty

Excessi ilitam, cuptatus, utem volupta nimendemque pre,
veligenis dolor sunt reris alit aut modissimilit apidebit ius ea
nempores sitisincia volum eliquiate coritia velit erovid que porendis mo excestes es re porem.

Itat quia sequibeat landamusa sequos at la vendipsantis
doluptibus impersp iendam aperit fugia sunt lia eaque nobis
pelliquos eat unt, consed et ommosam comnitatae si tet, odit qui natessit od qui rerro tem illupta tentis eiusdae ministrum dolo volent raeprae. Optatur? Quid molest, omnienet et ullupta quiaspi ctatiat.

“White space is to be regareded as an active element
not a passive background.”
- Jan Tschichold

SPACE